A young child is sitting on a concrete floor, looking down at their hands. The floor is covered with chalk drawings and text. In the top left, the word "Know" is written in red. Below it, "The Question." is written in black. In the bottom left, "Be The Answer" is written in black. To the right of the child, there are several colorful, curved lines drawn with chalk. The overall scene is dimly lit, with the child's face and hands being the primary focus.
